Tammy still feels passionate about her career after 14 years of growth in a fast paced and changing industry. Her guests expect to hear and know that education is important to her. She regularly participates in ongoing and trend setting education to stay inspired.

With a background in art, “Art of Self” is transformed into a creative outlook for Tammy’s guests. Her cuts, colors, and nail designs are unique to each person and help them enhance their inner beauty.

She also believes that each client should have the knowledge to recreate “Salon” style at home with proper products and tool education.

Her favorite quote is, “You make a living by what you get, you make a life by what you give.” Winston Churchill
